Headpoint is pleased to announce the appointment of Henry Baker as an Associate

Henry has joined Headpoint from KPMG where he spent almost five years in audit within the Financial Services group gathering experience in tax and becoming a fully qualified ICAEW chartered accountant. He grew up in the Midlands and is a graduate of the University of Nottingham.

As an Associate within the corporate finance team, he will be focused on providing M&A advice to our clients on a range of transactions.

Mark Wilson, Managing Partner, Headpoint commented “We are delighted that Henry has joined us and is already settling in. His appointment underlines our ability to attract highly talented professionals who want to develop a career in mid-market corporate finance. He brings experience working with a range of Plc and PE-owned financial services clients, generally tech-enabled and high growth. Henry’s skill set is highly complementary and we are really looking forward to seeing him develop further within Headpoint.”

Henry Baker added, “I’m very excited to join the team at this time and I’m looking forward to expanding Headpoint’s advisory offering across the Midlands and wider UK”.

Henry’s appointment coincides with completion of several transactions including the sale of Besblock to Holcim, one of the largest construction materials suppliers worldwide.
